The Spanish sought to create a “New Spain” in what is today Mexico and the southwestern United States, and this included the composition of appropriate music for their newly-built churches. We’ll commemorate the 300th anniversary of San Antonio’s founding with 16th- and 17th-century music from both Old and New Spain, including works by Morales, Lobo, Flecha, Padilla, and Sumaya, and featuring the Texas premiere of Francisco López Capillas’s Missa Batalla.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 20, 2019 AT 4:00PM
CHAPEL OF THE INCARNATE WORD
4503 BROADWAY ST. • SAN ANTONIO, TX 78209

Just in time for Carnival season, we present a chamber program made up of early baroque works from Venice and northern Italy. Music in 17th-century Italy was worlds different from that of the Renaissance, and the expressive qualities and emotional frankness of the music of Monteverdi and his contemporaries can be arresting, even today. Works by Monteverdi, Merula, Uccellini, Strozzi, Bertoli, and others will be performed by a small ensemble including violin, recorder, cello, dulciana, harp, and theorbo.

VIVA VIVALDI!

Electrifying, passionate, sensual — these are but a few words that can describe the music of the genius that was Antonio Vivaldi. His music has enchanted millions since it found widespread popularity nearly a century ago. Our first-ever all-Vivaldi program will consist of a diverse assortment of his instrumental and vocal output, with concerti featuring talented ABO soloists, overtures, chamber works, as well as arias from his sacred and operatic oeuvre.

EINE KLEINE KAMMERMUSIK

SATURDAY, JUNE 1, 2019 AT 7:30PM

We close our season with a musical voyage to Napoleonic France and Biedermeier Vienna, with chamber music featuring ABO’s principal players. We’ll perform music by Beethoven, with a piano quartet from his youthful and Haydn-influenced First Period, along with a quintet by his childhood friend Antoine Reicha, the so-called “Father of the Wind Quintet.” We’ll end with Louis Spohr’s Gran Nonetto, a rarely-performed work that is a perfect blend of Classical balance and Romantic passion.
